Repairs - Re: "Alberta adds $350M to repair buildings," Aug. 23.

What a sad state of affairs that school boards (and misguided parents who keep voting in do-nothing MLAs) have to pull teeth to get any money for immediate needs. In the case of Western Canada High School, concrete sills are falling off the building. Maybe the MLAs need to do the repairs on their days off.

For a province swimming in money, this is one heck of a legacy left by Ralph Klein and lived up to by Ed Stelmach and his northern peons. Get on with an election.
